BRADY SEFTON EXPIRES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Brady M. Sefton, 78, 205 Baltimore street, a former Adams county treasurer and the oldest active barber in Adams county at the time of his retirement last November, died Wednesday evening at 10:40 o'clock at the Warner hospital from a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health three months and was admitted to the hospital 11 days ago.

He was born near Thurmont, Maryland, a son of the late Josiah and Martha A. (Pleagle) Sefton, and came to Adams county when he was about six years of age. For a number of years he resided in the Dobbin house on Steinwehr avenue and took part in its dedication as a museum several years ago.

Sells Shop Interest
Failing health caused Mr. Sefton to retire last November after 60 years of barbering in Adams county. At that time he sold his interest in the barber shop on center square to Joseph Hoffman who had worked with him for 24 years.

Mr. Sefton was one of four brothers who were barbers here half a century ago. He started with his brother, Charles, eldest of the four, in a shop which occupied the present site of Mitchell's restaurant 60 years ago. When his brother, Charles, left to go into the livery business he and another brother, Harry, moved their shop to the present site of the Varsity shop on Baltimore street. Another brother, Edward, barbered with them for a time but left to become a dentist. Charles and Harry Sefton died a number of years ago.

Fifty years ago Mr. Sefton began barbering in center square.

Mr. Sefton served as Adams county treasurer from 1916 to 1920.

The deceased was a member of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church and the Gettysburg Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Funeral Saturday
His wife, the former Miss Mary M. Shields, died in 1890.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary A. Weikert, Gettysburg R. 1; and Mrs. Leo E. Bushman, Baltimore street; one brother, Dr. Edward B. Sefton, Hagerstown; 11 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Howard Schley Fox, Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock.

$94,459 BOND SALES FIRST 2 DAYS OF DRIVE

Adams countians purchased $94,459 worth of bonds since the opening of the Fifth War Bond drive Monday. Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance Committee, announced today.

Observers said that this was "fair" in view of the bank holiday on Wednesday when 13 issuing agencies in the county were closed because of Flag Day.

With a goal of $2,797,000 sales will have to reach a much faster tempo if the goal is to be obtained, one observer said.

"I am not discounting the fact that in the four previous bond drives Adams county got off to a very slow start but eventually wound up in a whirlwind finish to put us over the top. However, in this campaign, when we are asked to raise more than $350,000 above our highest previous quota, it is going to be necessary to set a fast pace at once and maintain it for the duration of the drive if we hope to reach our goal," he added.

13 Agencies Report
Only 13 of the approximately 29 issuing agencies had reported their sales up to 10:30 o'clock this morning. The delay is attributed to the bank holiday on Wednesday.

"I am confident that we will have a much better report on Friday," Chairman Thomas said.

Issuing agencies were again urged by Mr. Thomas today to make daily reports.

"State headquarters of the War Finance Committee are pleading for daily reports from each county and our tabulators must file a daily return," Mr. Thomas added.

The nation-wide appeal in the current campaign is to individuals who are asked to purchase an additional $100 over and above their planned purchases.

State Report

Philadelphia, June 15 (AP)—War bond sales to individuals in Pennsylvania in the Fifth War Loan campaign have reached $40,243,358, or 9.1 per cent of the $442,000,000 quota in this category, G. Ruhlman Rebmann, Jr., chairman of the state War Finance Committee, announced today.

The figure includes $33,092,650 in Series E bond sales, which is 14.33 per cent of the $224,000,000 quota in that group.

The state's over all quota, the highest yet, is $1,082,000,000.

R.C. Needs Help On 400 Kit Bags

The Adams county Red Cross today asked county women to help sew 400 extra kit bags to be shipped unfilled to the military authorities as soon as possible to fill an urgent need for the bags.

Parts for the kit bags will be cut and available at the sewing center on East High street on Thursday and Friday afternoon, it was stated, and women wishing to make the bags, may take them to their homes to be sewed together.

Nearly 1,000 kit bags must be made by the county Red Cross before September 1, it was said today, with 596 kitbags to be filled and the 400 unfilled to be sewed together.

ASSESSOR RESIGNS

Carl O. Taylor, Bendersville assessor, presented his resignation from that post to the county commissioners at their meeting at the court house Wednesday. The resignation, based on Mr. Taylor's induction into the armed forces next Wednesday, was accepted. No successor was immediately appointed.

June 23rd Is War Bond Day Among County Merchants

Friday, June 23, will be War Bond day in Adams county's stores, according to plans announced today by Mares Sherman, chairman of the Adams County Retail Merchants committee for the Fifth War Loan drive.

A large number of the merchants have already signified their willingness to use proceeds from all sales on June 23 for the purchase of war bonds and stamps, and Mr. Sherman today asked the cooperation of all merchants in the county.

Committees established in each community were asked to report the amount of bonds purchased by the merchants from the receipts of that day as community totals, rather than by individual sales.

The merchants' day plan for war bond sales has become more

PLAYGROUND TO OPEN FOR THIRD SEASON MONDAY

Gettysburg's borough playground, located on the high school grounds, will open its third season Monday morning at 9 o'clock for another ten-week period that will last until the beginning of school.

Prof. Fred P. Haehnlen and Miss Arlene Plank, who have been supervisors at the playground since its establishment, will again be in charge of play for the town's youngsters.

Last year the records showed an attendance of 8,504 at the grounds, and the Gettysburg Recreation Board, in charge of the affair, expects that as many, if not more, youngsters will be counted again this year at the play center.

Paul A. Kinsey, president of the recreation board, said today that officials believe fewer older youngsters will take advantage of the playground facilities this year, but that more younger boys and girls will be there to play throughout the day. Older boys and girls will be going to work on farms and in canneries, it is believed, while the youngsters, with many mothers and fathers working, will be sent to the playground for properly supervised play.

The grounds will be open from 9 to 11:30 o'clock each morning, from 1:30 to 4:30 each afternoon and from 6 to 8:30 each evening except Saturday. On Saturday the grounds will be closed at 12 noon.

Have Post-War Plans

Because more younger children are expected this year, handicrafts are to be specially featured, it was stated, with a new project starting each week. Regularly organized softball leagues will also be formed for older youngsters, if sufficient boys and girls are interested.

At least one "Parents Day" is being planned and possibly two for the playground season. A "Parents Day" will be held at the end of the 10 week session and if sufficient handicraft articles and the like are made early in the summer season an earlier "Parents Day" will be held about the middle of the season.

Mr. Kinsey reported today that contributions for the fund being established by the Recreation board for expansion of the playground after the war is over are being sent in regularly. Among plans for the playground after victory are the building of at least two combined tennis and outdoor basketball courts.

HOLD FLAG DAY EXERCISES IN COURT HOUSE

The nine flags used by the United States from the time of the landings of the English on American shores were shown and explained Wednesday evening at the annual Flag Day exercises held by the Gettysburg Elks lodge in the court house.

Preceding the ceremony at the court house, a short parade was held from the Elks home to the court house led by the Wayne band and containing a color guard of men in the service home on leave, Boy Scout and Girl Scout color guards and the Adams county company of the Minutemen.

Making up the color guard of service men on leave were three Marines, Pvt. C. William Zhea, Harold T. McElroy and J. Glenn Guise and Sea-Bee Bernard Linn.

Courtroom Filled
The color guards and Minutemen marched to the sides of the court room which was jammed with more than 300 persons.

Following the playing of "God Bless America" by the Wayne band, Judge W. C. Sheely, master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers and flag bearers. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, and the program closed with benediction by the Rev. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church.

Various Banners

Eight Boy and Girl Scouts carried the eight flags used by the United States and colonies prior to the establishment of the present flag—old Glory. Dr. Thomas L. Cline, of the faculty of Gettysburg college, related the history of each of the flags, and as he announced each flag, the Scout carrying that particular banner stepped into the court room to take his position behind the speaker. Here And There

News Collected At Random

The fortieth annual convention of the United Spanish War Veterans and Auxiliary has passed into history. The last session has been held. Newly elected officers have been inducted and the last delegate and visitor has returned home. Only the memory remains.

For the Gettysburg Committee on Arrangements and all other members of the Sergeant William F. Steffy Post of the USWV there is ample praise and plaudits for a hard job, well done. The committee, headed by George Rightmyer, worked diligently for months to perfect plans and details for the conclave. And everything went according to schedule.

For Gettysburg it was a privilege and a pleasure to play host to this fine group of men and women. It wasn't something new for Gettysburg because we've entertained the USWV on two previous occasions. And we are going to entertain them again next year.

By unanimous vote the veterans chose Gettysburg for their 1945 convention and it will not be surprising if they make this historic community their convention city for the duration. At least one delegate spoke in favor of such a plan in one of the business sessions and many others voiced the hope that this would be the case.

Voting to come back to Gettysburg next year is a commitment to the hospitality of the people of this community and an open expression of appreciation by the Veterans and the Auxiliary of the courtesies they received while here.

What a nice thing it is for five or six hundred visitors, from all over the state, to come to town for four or five days and before they return say, in substance:

"We've had a grand time. The people of Gettysburg have been nice to us. I'd like to come back here again for our convention next year."

That's the kind of hospitality and fellowship that makes for a better Gettysburg... and will bring more business and friends to this community.

The USWV can be assured of the same kind, courteous treatment, if not better, when they return next June.

Within 7 Miles Of Cutting Off Cherbourg Port

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15 (AP)—The Allies were fighting today their fiercest battles since the landings in France and the German high command, which had thrown four armored divisions into furious counterattacks, declared the battle "is approaching its climax."

American infantry and airborne units, supported by tanks smashing across the Cherbourg neck, drove within seven miles of cutting the last communication lines leading to the big port at the tip of the peninsula.

This was virtually the only Allied gain of the last 24 hours.

The Germans drove the British from Troarn, which the Allies had occupied as the eastern anchor of their 100-mile line, and from Villers-Bocage, one of their two advance points southwest of Caen.

20 German Divisions In Action

Best unofficial estimates placed the number of German divisions in action now at around 20 and there were strong indications that the enemy was bringing in reserves from other armies as distant as 200 miles.

The fierceness of the fighting was attested by the German high command, which broadcast that the Allies were trying to enlarge their bridgehead "toward all sides." It added:

"Among salvos of heaviest naval guns, incessant air attacks and with freshly brought up infantry and tank forces being thrown into action on both sides, the battle is approaching a climax."

The American advance was on a nine-mile front westward from Carentan toward high ground controlling the last German roads leading to Cherbourg.

Violent German reaction to the threat to the lifeline was expected, and it was likely that further American advances would be only after the costliest fighting.

Report Hand-To-Hand Fighting

The Yankees plunged to the Les Sablons-Baupre area, south of Ste. Mere Eglise and west of Carentan. Seven miles to the westward is high ground over-looking La Haye Puits, through which runs the last remaining major north-south highway on the peninsula still in German hands.

The advance placed the Americans nearly half way across the peninsula at its narrowest point.

Toward the tip of the peninsula hand-to-hand fighting surged between Germans and troops of the U. S. Fourth division in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

American artillery was shelling the road from Montebourg to Valognes to the northwest, and the doughboys controlled the road from Quineville, on the coast, to Montebourg, but the town itself changed hands from hour to hour.

American airborne troops spearheaded the fighting around Carentan and besides pushing to the west shoved the Germans back more than a mile south of the town.

Fierce See-Saw Struggles

Allied troops driving southward along the central sector of the front were engaged in heavy fighting around Caumont and Villers-Bocage, with the Allies in Caumont but the Germans back in Villers-Bocage after a counter-attack.

The main fighting was taking place in front of Villers-Bocage. Allied troops held high ground facing the town a quarter of a mile away. The river Seulles divided the German and Allied forces.

From this area northward to Montebourg the Ninth and Second Tactical Air Forces carried out what was officially described as "a great number of sorties" in support of the ground forces, many of them from a mounting number of Allied air bases set up with full facilities in captured territory.

Allied fliers reported more movement on the roads behind the German lines last night than at any time since D-Day.

While a great weight of Allied bombs was being thrown against this movement, an announcement came that several hundred RAF four-engined Lancasters and a fighter escort, in a quick switch to American bombing tactics, had blasted German E-boat pens at Le Havre before dusk last evening with six-ton "factory-busters." It was the RAF's heaviest daylight attack of the war. A second assault was directed against the same targets during the night.

Germans Use Best Divisions

Enemy broadcasts reacted to the new Allied attention of Le Havre lying just east of the beachhead, with surmises that it portended a forthcoming land move in that direction.

East of Villers-Bocage to Troarn, beyond battered and besieged Caen great tank battles raged with undiminished intensity into their fourth day. The Germans were using elements of four armored divisions.

Tilly-Sur-Seulles, a dozen miles west of Caen, changed hands several times. The Germans were reported in it last and a Nazi counter-attack definitely had retaken Troarn, battered into heaps of rubble by air, sea and land bombardment.

Appearance of the second German Panzer Division—the best armored unit in the German Army—indicated the Germans were making a supreme effort to seal off the Allied beachhead.

It was the banner the Auxiliary had intended to present to the borough of Gettysburg Monday morning after the convention had received its

CRUCIAL TEST FACING ALLIED INVASION ARMY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

This is the beginning of the main Hitlerite counter-attack against the Allies on the Cherbourg peninsula, which means that the crucial moment of the first stage of our invasion of France is near.

It's a clash of armored giants, for tanks play a great role. The Nazis have swelled in fury as the Nazis have hung in reserves which have been rushed up from distant points. The conflict is fluid, and strong positions are passing back and forth in hand-to-hand fighting along the serpentine 100 mile front.

The Allies are meeting the challenge with complete confidence. They have retained the initiative on the whole and that's vastly important.

Intensity Mounts

The intensity of the battle will mount, and if the Germans have the reserves we may expect it to become one of the greatest engagements of the war. Still, the Allies have their feet firmly on shore, and they will stay there. Don't forget that we have two mighty assets, which the Nazis lack—vast superiority in the air and on the sea. The enemy ranks are being raked by our warplanes and by the great guns of the fleet on the neighboring ocean.

Good luck to the gallant boys on the firing line!

One of the most important of yesterday's momentous events was the dramatic appearance of General Charles De Gaulle, the French leader, among the Allied forces on the peninsula—his first return to home soil since the fatal days of 1940. This visit, made possible by an Allied command which was happy to serve him, will arouse fresh hope that there may be a settlement of the controversy which is clouding relations between De Gaulle's French committee of national liberation and the Anglo-American Allies.

Many Angles

British Prime Minister Churchill called this situation rather sharply to public attention yesterday when he requested the house of commons to defer debating the subject on the ground that discussion "would do more harm than good now." He did edge the cloud with a bit of silver when he added that he wouldn't seek delay of debate "if I had no hopes of a better solution than I can announce at the present time."

There are numerous angles involved, but the essence of them seems to be De Gaulle's demand that his committee of national liberation be recognized as the provisional government of France. This neither Washington nor London is willing to do, holding that liberated Frenchmen should pass on this great question first. Out of this have grown uncomfortable questions by the French committee regarding the scope of General Eisenhower's authority in civilian matters, the extent of cooperation by the French people (including the underground forces) with the invading Allies, and the validity of Allied invasion currency used by Eisenhower's troops.

Up To People

The American-British decision about recognition is self-explanatory—they want the French people as a whole to make the choice in peace time. Still, from long observation I suspect that if De Gaulle weren't such a dominating personality he might have a better chance of recognition. It's like this:

No one, so far as I know, questions that this tall, impressive appearing soldier has vast powers of leadership. He has outstanding capabilities and he has a personality which attracts followers. What's wrong then?

Well, he has the reputation of being a hard man—absolute granite—to deal with. He gives the impression that he believes himself to be a man of destiny. His way is the right way.

Now there's no question that all men of good will in America and England are anxious that the French people should handle their own affairs. If they want the general as head of their government, that will be fine. However, it seems obvious that the Allies might create great difficulties for France by thrusting such a powerful and dominating personality on her before the people have had a chance to vote. Maybe if De Gaulle softened a bit it would help.

FDR DISCLOSES POSTWAR PLAN OF WORLD PEACE

Washington, June 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt today made public the administration's conception of a postwar International peace organization providing for a council representing all nations, to concern itself with the settlement of international disputes and to prevent war.

The President said the organization also should include an International court of justice.

Mr. Roosevelt issued his statement after a conference with Secretary of State Hull, Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Dr. Isaiah Bowman and Leo Pasvolsky, officials of the State department who have been working on postwar planning.

"It is our thought," the President said in his statement, "that the organization (for International co-operation) would be a fully representative body with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating International cooperation."

Not a "Super State"

The organization, he continued, "would provide for a council, elected annually by the fully representative body of all nations, which would include the four major nations and a suitable number of other nations. The council would concern itself with peaceful settlement of international disputes and with the prevention of threats to the peace or breaches of the peace."

Mr. Roosevelt's statement emphasized we are "not thinking of a super state with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power."

His statement said consideration of a postwar organization has been in the formative stage for 18 months and he praised what he termed "the entirely non-partisan nature of these consultations."

Make Advance Across Entire Italian Front

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Rome, June 15 (AP)—Allied troops, breaking the stiffening German resistance of the last three days, have made a general advance all along their line in Italy taking Orvieto, Aquila and Narni and pushing onward. Allied headquarters announced today.

Orvieto is 57 miles northwest of Rome; Narni, 41 miles north, and Aquila, 54 miles northeast. Along the west coast the Fifth Army has advanced 79 miles beyond Rome.

As one Eighth Army column entered Orvieto, an important road junction northeast of Lake Bolsena, another reached the outskirts of Terni, but was delayed by a blown bridge and a German counterattack in the vicinity of the city.

Fifth Army troops along the west coast met determined enemy resistance at Magliano, 11 miles northeast of Orbetello, but swept it aside and entered the town.

French Advance
The fall of Orbetello itself, a west coast town 71 miles beyond Rome and the center of German resistance to the Fifth Army's offensive, was reported last night.

In the Lake Bolsena area French troops continued to advance and the Americans reached Pitigliano, 11 miles west of the northern end of the lake, and sent reconnaissance elements farther.

Allied troops in the Adriatic sector are across the Saline river.

Despite the arrival of fresh German divisions in Italy Allied armies still are encountering only formations made up of remnants of the 14th German Army. Apparently these are being used for the present delaying action and the new divisions are being saved for a stand on a line farther north.

FINNS MAKING BRAVE STAND

By EDDIE GILMORE
Moscow, June 15 (AP)—The Red Army hurled the Finns across an important but unnamed river today as it pressed on toward the port of Viipuri against an enemy who is throwing up what Red Star described as "a multitude of obstacles."

All dispatches stressed the difficult fighting conditions faced by Col. Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops. In numerous places the Russians were employing special squads to cut through dense forests and build highways.

There were many indications that Finnish resistance was stiffening and that the Soviets had come up against the main Finnish defenses, but no indications that the Finns had been able to stop the Red Army in any sector.

The Russians introduced heavy bombers in efforts to blast through the forests. An Izvestia correspondent reported that sailors from the Baltic fleet had entered the campaign, but he did not specify where.

Arabian Pipeline Problem "On Ice"

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The administration's agreement to put the controversial trans-Arabian pipeline "on ice" for the time being today paved the road for congressional formulation of an over all government policy on foreign oil development.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said the decision holding up the pipeline evidenced "commendable progress" by the committee of which Senator Maloney (D-Cnn) is chairman.

Wreck Transports And Burn Fuel Cars

Allied Air Force Headquarters, Italy, June 15 (AP)—A large number of huge six engine Merseburg-323 transport planes used by the Germans to supply the Russian front were knocked out and 30 fuel cars were left flaming yesterday by American Lightnings in a raid on Keesemet airfield, 55 miles southwest of Budapest.

An announcement today said large fires also were set in six oil refineries in Hungary and Yugoslavia which were attacked by more than 500 heavy bombers.

Two-ton blockbusters bombs were rained on railroads at Nis, Yugoslavia, last night by RAF Halifaxes, Liberators and Wellingtons. Rail lines to Istanbul, Belgrade, Sofia and Salonika radiate from that point.

A total of 18 German planes were destroyed yesterday, mostly in combats over Hungary. The same number of Allied planes were lost.

An Evening Thought

The education of circumstances is superior to that of tuition.—Wadsworth.

Just FolksGOOD AND BAD

They say that children shouldn't eat

Too much of anything that's sweet; That every grandpa should deny The wanted second piece of pie, Since so to make a youngster glad For him, or her, is very bad.

They say it's bad to stop at shops And buy a sack of lollipops, And let the little ones indulge In candy till their stomachs bulge. Such practices make mothers sad, And are for children very bad.

It's bad for children, so they say, When old folks put their toys away, And old folks straighten rooms and shelves,

Which children ought to do themselves.

Yes, so to wait on girl or lad, All parents say is very bad.

And yet, let's have this understood, For grandpas what is bad is good, It's good for grandpas' soul to buy The pleasures parents must deny, It's good for grandpas, through and through,

To be a little wayward, too.

Today's TalkINNER FORTITUDE

We can face anything if we have properly schooled ourselves. To take things as they come, recognizing the ever over-hanging fact of insecurity, but fortified at all times by an inward courage of heart, is to live the victorious life.

It is this inward fortitude, a kind of abiding faith, that sustains every soldier in battle, whether he realizes it or not. It is something that our Creator has bequeathed to us. It is our greatest asset.

There are examples of this in our everyday life, all about us. In public life, in our business relations, and among those who are shut-ins, this inner fortitude is forever demonstrating its fine force and power. In every hospital there are those who are sustained by it.

Nothing can take the place of self-reliance. We rise or fall by it. We cannot expect anyone else to believe in us if we fail to believe in ourselves. We are born into this world with our fate sealed within us. No one knows his own possibilities. But they are there for both discovery and development as we may choose. Without this inner fortitude, however, none of us can progress far. It's the sustaining quality of our lives. We might call it our spiritual balance wheel!

Every one of us is being constantly tested for his worth. We are appraised quite as much for what we are as by what we do. Our outward acts are the flowering of the ideas, decisions, and secret questionings that are forever moving silently within our minds. Every brave deed, every courageous step forward, and, indeed, every independent thought expressed, is the result of an inner fortitude.

It is this inner fortitude that is sustaining the peoples of this earth as the tragedy of war eats in upon them. Every soldier boy and every home must have it, as well as every nation expending itself that a free world may become an eternal fact. All hope would die without it, faith would wilt!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "New Paths."

3 NEW CITIZENS

They didn't get the customary inductive welcome when Federal Judge Benjamin C. Hawkins administered the oath of allegiance yesterday. (Associated Press War Editor)

A powerful Allied Naval task force is attempting to put ground troops ashore on Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas islands 1,500 miles south-east of Japan. Tokyo radio said today.

The unconfirmed enemy announcement said Japanese defenders allowed "the invaders to approach as near as possible to the coast and then opened up a fierce concentrated fire on the enemy and foiled the attempt." A second landing attempt, it said, likewise was met with heavy fire and "Japanese forces are now inflicting heavy punishment on the invaders."

Seek Jap Fleet

The broadcast closely followed Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' announcement yesterday outlining four days of concentrated surface and aerial bombardment of Marianas islands. Nimitz' disclosures, coming as they did while the big task force was still at sea, was a bold invitation for the Japanese fleet to come out and fight. The latter continued reluctant.

The Marianas stretch for 400 miles north and south on the eastern flank of the Philippines. Saipan is 750 miles south of the Bonin Islands. The Bonins, some 600 miles from Tokyo, constitute the innermost Pacific defenses of the Japanese mainland.

Successful invasion of the Marianas—which include U. S.-owned Guam, largest of the group—would advance Nimitz' fleet bases 1,000 miles westward from the present advanced positions in the Marshalls.

4-Day Assault

The task force first struck last Saturday and kept up the assaults, by shelling and bombing, through Tuesday.

The vast scale of the operation was indicated by the Allied diversions. Southwest Pacific bombers repeatedly hit at Palau and Truk south of the Marianas; central Pacific planes also hit Truk, and a second task force attacked the Kurile islands 500 miles northeast of Japan for two days.

Tokyo radio, first to break the news of the Marshalls invasion four months ago, said in its broadcast that 70 landing barges plus 20 other craft were used in the attempted landings. Its account did not claim, however, that the second landing was beaten off.

Big Land Battle

Meanwhile the biggest current land battle of the Pacific war centered at Chungsha in central China, with Chungking reporting Chinese defenders holding off enemy forces attacking the city from three sides. The Japanese have thrown 200,000 men into the battle, Chungking said.

An important battle was joined between British forces and Japanese defending Mogaung, 35 miles west of Myitkyina in north Burma, southeast Asia headquarters announced. Capture of these two cities is vital to Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's plan to link the Ledo and Burma roads between India and China. Stilwell now is at grips with the enemy inside Myitkyina.

On Biak island U. S. troops fighting to seize two airfields still were meeting fierce resistance.

STARS OPEN 5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE

Hollywood, June 15 (AP)—Movie stars and searchlights formed a brilliant backdrop for Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who opened the Fifth War Loan drive here by informing more than 20,000 persons in Hollywood bowl that "victory isn't something our men are going to bring home to us, a present from overseas. . . our fighting men are paying for it. . . so must we."

Briefly and forcefully, the secretary told his audience last night: "It's 4,000 miles from here to the nearest place where our men are fighting for us. Mile by mile, man for man, their deaths will shorten that distance for us here at home. I know this isn't pleasant talk, but it's plain talk. And this is the time for plain talk."

"If he should die—your boy—we must be worthy of his death. And this is just as important: If he lives, we must be worthy of his willingness to die. This is our war, your's and mine."

Morgenthau said the present European offensive is devouring many of the materials of war faster than America can produce them on present schedules.

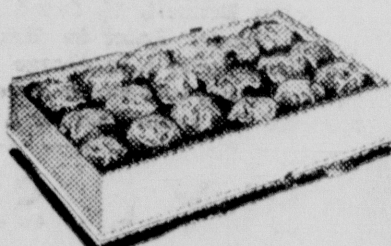

Bob Hope, Fredric March, Judy Garland, Bing Crosby, Jose Iturbi, Bette Davis and Lt. Rudy Vallee and his U. S. Coast guard band participated in the program.

GOP Leaders Hold Special Meeting

Philadelphia, June 15 (AP)—Some of Pennsylvania's highest ranking Republican leaders met last night in the Union League.

They didn't say what they talked about but presumably they discussed National convention plans for the state's 70 delegates.

Governor Martin, State chairman M. Harvey Taylor, former U. S. Senator Joseph Grundy and National committeeman G. Mason Owl-ett were the conferees.

More Than 1,300 U. S. Ships Used In Invasion Push

Washington, June 15 (AP)—More than 1,300 United States warships carried seaborne troops, guns and war into Europe in the invasion of France.

And despite the mass of vessels concentrated on the blasting of Hitler's forces in unconditional surrender, Navy Secretary Forrestal asserts that the Pacific offensive "has not been and will not be diminished."

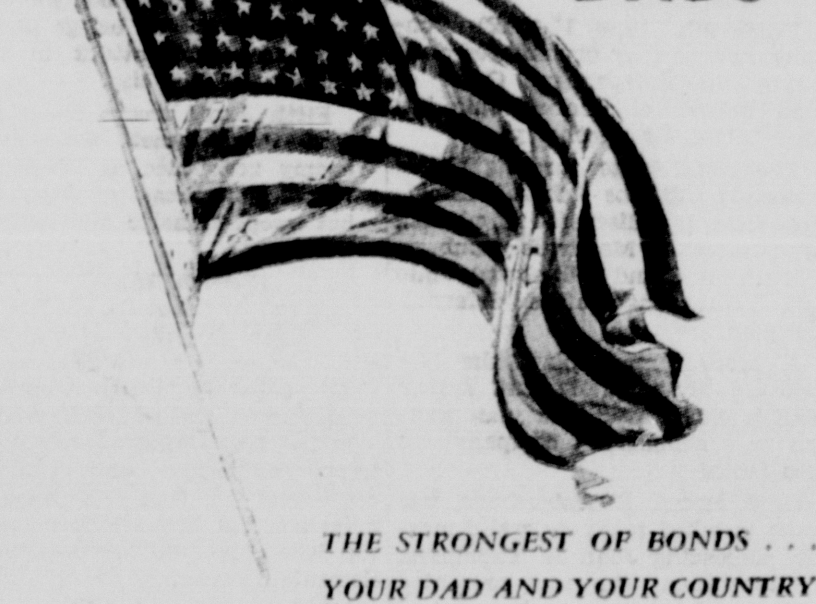

On the contrary, he said yesterday, "At the moment of Germany's greatest crisis, Japan is being too hard-pressed to lend any diversionary support."

Taking part in the European invasion, he said, were the battleships Nevada, Arkansas and Texas, the cruisers Augusta, Tuscaloosa and Quincy and "more than 30 destroyers."

TENNIS STARS IN SEMI-FINALS

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—Defending Champion Pauline Betz of Los Angeles seems on unsteady ground today as three Californians and a Floridian battle for final berths in the national clay court tennis championships.

Miss Betz, bothered by a lame shoulder, faces third seeded Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., in the semi-finals, the winner to tackle the survivor of a match between second ranking Doris Hart of Miami and fourth seeded Mary Arnold of Los Angeles.

All came through in straight sets yesterday except Miss Betz, who was compelled to rally magnificently to eliminate 16-year-old Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, fifth seeded in the tournament and eleventh-ranking nationally, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Meanwhile, in the men's division top seeded Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Coral Gables, Fla., and second-ranking Billy Talbert of Indianapolis continued to make a show of the field. Segura, winning two matches with the loss of six games, meets unseeded Jack McManis of Los Angeles in the quarter-finals today. Talbert is paired with sixth seeded Hubert Manire of Detroit.

Segura advanced with a 6-3, 6-1 decision over Bill Sayres, Detroit high school boy, and Talbert blanked Lt. A. W. Angstadt of the Grosjean, Mich., Naval Air Station, 6-0, 6-0.

Both the veterans and the Auxiliary department officers were greatly pleased with this week's convention, pointing out that it was the largest in several years. "Almost like a national convention," one delegate declared.

The veterans reported a registration of 240 while the Auxiliary listed 236 delegates from units in every section of the state. Counting unregistered convention guests that included members of the families of some veterans and others who made brief visits to the convention sessions, members of the local committee estimated that more than 800 convention-connected visitors were entertained here for the last five days.

Already discussing plans for the 1945 convocation, members of the convention committee from the William M. Steffy Post No. 126 of Gettysburg have the guarantee of $250 of department funds to help finance next year's convention here. Voting that sum for the 1945 meeting, there was a suggestion made that department aid for local camps entertaining state conventions might well become an annual practice.

Milwaukee, June 15 (AP)—Earl L. "Buddy" Bunker, Omaha World-Herald staff photographer whose graphic picture "Homecoming" was awarded a Pulitzer prize last month, today won first place with the same picture in the annual newspaper photo contest conducted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

W. R. Arnold, vice chairman announced.

Bunker's picture, which showed the heart-touching welcome of a Villisca, Iowa, soldier by his family, won first prize over more than 40 entries from 17 states. It scored 28 points.

Second place was won by Bert Emanuel of the Detroit Free Press with the picture "Race Riots," depicting a bloody street scene in Detroit. Emanuel scored 26 points.

"Caught" by Hy Peskin of the New York Daily Mirror, ranked third with 24 points. Peskin's photo showed a naked lad climbing out of the East river after a cool summer dip and being surprised by a policeman.

Three Judges
Bunker will be given $100 in cash prize money and a photograph of a silver and oak plaque, with his name inscribed, symbolizing the AP award for outstanding photography. The plaque itself is kept on exhibit in AP general headquarters in New York.

Judges in the annual AP contest, sponsored by the Associated Press Managing-Editors Association, were Russ Stewart, managing editor, Chicago Times; Donald J. Steading, managing editor, the Portland, Ore., Journal, and W. T. Christian, managing editor, the Richmond News Leader. Each selected his first six choices in order and votes were tabulated on a basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second and so on.

Ten photographers from nine states — representing regional winners in Michigan, Nebraska, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Washington, California, Ohio and Vermont — received votes in the balloting.

Stewart advanced with a 6-3, 6-1 decision over Bill Sayres, Detroit high school boy, and Talbert blanked Lt. A. W. Angstadt of the Grosjean, Mich., Naval Air Station, 6-0, 6-0.

Steffy Post No. 126 of Gettysburg have the guarantee of $250 of department funds to help finance next year's convention here. Voting that sum for the 1945 meeting, there was a suggestion made that department aid for local camps entertaining state conventions might well become an annual practice.

Among the games suggested for a carton are, a monopoly set, King of the Turf, Stars and Stripes football, dominoes, backgammon, combination checkers and chess, cribbage board, four decks of cards, two of them pinhole decks, four puzzles (not jig-saw), bingo set and six or ten victrola records for every two boxes, plenty of poker chips, extra dice and victrola needles.

One of the following should also be in a "chest," it was suggested: a softball, golf, ball and bat, medicine ball, deck tennis set, badminton set with extra shuttlecocks or two sets of 16-ounce boxing gloves.

The third flag, established in 1707 under Queen Anne had a crimson field with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew in the right hand corner. This was the flag used in the French and Indian war, Doctor Cline said.

Fourth was the Pine Tree flag — with a white field and green pine tree — which was established in 1775 by the New England colonies in protest against the British. It was the first flag used by the Navy. The fifth flag, with a field of orange and bearing a black snake and the words, "Don't Tread On Me," was established in 1776 by the southern colonies.

Old Glory Is Ninth
The sixth flag, established by a committee of the Continental Congress, contained 13 alternating red and white stripes and had the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew in the right hand corner. Seventh was the Betsy Ross flag, containing 13 alternating red and white stripes and thirteen white stars in a circle on a blue field in the right hand corner. This was the start of "Old Glory."

Eighth was the flag the "Star Spangled Banner" was written about by Francis Scott Key. It has 15 stars and 15 alternating red and white stripes due to the addition of two more states to the union. The ninth flag—Old Glory, was established by Congress in 1818 and provided for the 13 stripes and a star for each state.

Doctor Cline urged "those of us whose families have been here since early days of the country" to teach those who are of more recent arrival into the United States, the "great heritage that is ours so that they too might sink their roots deep in the soil of America."

The eight Girl and Boy Scouts who were flag bearers were Mary Louise Cole, Emma Scott, Violet Schwartz, Lorraine Small, Sydney Poppay, William Bushman, Richard Slade and Richard Codori.

Girl Scout Rose Marie Smith led the assemblage in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

HOLD FLAG DAY

The Wayne band played an appropriate selection.

The first flag, with a field of white and a red cross of St. George, was the first to be brought to the colonies by the English. The second flag, established in 1606, "holds deep interest to the persons of Scotch descent in Adams county," Dr. Cline said. It was established by King James I, who was also James II, of Scotland, who placed the Cross of St. Andrew, in white, on the English flag after he came to the throne. The Scotch cross of St. Andrew and the English cross of St. George in red were both on the flag symbolizing the union of those two nations.

BUCKY WALTERS FIRST HURLER TO WIN 10 TILTS

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds became the first major league pitcher to win 10 games this season when he hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in 11 innings.

Including last night's game, the Reds brilliant right-hander has started 12 games and completed 11 of them. Only Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves has pitched more complete games, 12.

Walters has hurled 114 innings in which he has allowed 22 runs and 74 hits, an average of less than six hits and 1.65 runs per game.

In all three games chalked up against him as losses, he pitched 24 innings in which the Reds failed to score a single run for him. Every time they did manage to score for him, he captured the game. Besides just missing a perfect game against Boston, Walters has pitched three shutouts.

Came From Behind

The Reds had to come from behind to win yesterday's game. After the Pirates had gone ahead with a single tally in the 11th, Steve Mesner tripped, Eddie Miller followed with a double to score Mesner, and Woody Williams singled in Miller with the winning run.

The Boston Red Sox won their seventh and eighth straight by capturing both games of a double-header from the Philadelphia Athletics 6-4 and 5-0. Francis (Red) Barrett won the opener in relief for his first major league victory and Pinky Woods hurled a six-hit shutout in the nightcap. The double win moved them one game behind the league leading St. Louis Browns.

The New York Yankees ended a seven game losing streak by whipping the Washington Senators 6-2 behind Dube's five-hit pitching. The victory hurled the Yankees back into the first division in fourth place.

The Detroit Tigers took both ends of a twin bill from the Cleveland Indians 3-0 and 11-3. Ruffie Gentry, who broke into the majors last year with a 1-0 victory over the Indians, duplicated the shutout in the opener, scattering six hits. Hal Newhouse won his ninth game in the night-cap, more than any other American hurler.

Browns Trim Sox

The league leading Browns overwhelmed the Jimmy Dykesless Chicago White Sox 10-3. Nelson Potter hung up his seventh victory of the season, aided by Al Zarilla who banged out four hits, including a double and triple.

The National league leaders, the St. Louis Cardinals, had to come from behind twice to defeat the tail-end Chicago Cubs 10-9. Mort Cooper started but was kayoed in the second inning and Fred Schmidt won his first major league victory in relief.

Brooklyn at New York and Boston at Philadelphia in the National league were postponed due to rain.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, June 15 (AP)—Ancient history lesson: Moved by the furore over Mel Harder's 200th major league victory this spring, Ernie Lanigan looked over his records and found the near-misses included 198 victories by Bullet Joe Busi, 197 each by Larry French, Al Orth, Dazzy Vance and Rube Waddell, 196 by Babe Adams and 195 by Adolfo Luque and Bob Shawkey. Ralph A. Reddick of Blanchester, Ohio, who also finds interesting items in old baseball books, reports that Wilbert Robinson caught for Baltimore in four different leagues—the old American association (major league) in 1890-91, Ned Hanlon's National League Orioles until 1900, John McGraw's American league team in 1901-02 and the Eastern League Orioles in 1903.

But L. Earl Moseley went him one better by pitching for Youngstown, Ohio, in three leagues in as many years—Ohio and Pennsylvania, 1911; Central, 1912, and Inter-State, 1913.

MIDDLE AGES

The two-game U. of Michigan-Western Michigan baseball series this week-end recalls to Tub-Thumper Homer Dunham the first meeting between those schools in 1915. . . . Two budding major league hurlers, George Sisler and Ernie Kob, pitched a 14-inning scoreless tie. . . . Sisler gave the Broncos one hit, made by Jud Hyames, now Western's athletic director, and made both of Michigan's safe blows off Kob.

RIGHT UP TO DATE

Vaughn Hazen, Rochester rookie, had made only two hits in 17 times at bat when the Red Wings went to play an exhibition at the Sampson, N. Y., Naval Training Center.

As he went to the plate the first time, a teammate remarked: "You ought to hit the devil out of this three-armed semi-pro pitcher."

Hazen did, a 400-foot homer on the first pitch. . . . After he circled the bases a veteran commented: "All you needed was to hit against some good big league pitching."

Armstrong, Davis In Bout Tonight

New York, June 15 (AP)—The Jacobs Beach boys are looking for a quick knockout tonight when "Hammerin' Henry" Armstrong and Brooklyn's Al Davis clash in a scheduled 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

The larrupers are expected to lure 17,000 fans and more than $75,000 through the gates for the clash of the comeback kids. Armstrong is rated an 8 to 5 choice if it goes the limit, but none of the pickers expect it to do that. Asked which batter they favor to score by a kavo, the selectors agree:

"Why, the one that gets a good punch in first."

Henry, after passing up a Tuesday workout, went through 10 rounds of floor work yesterday, while Davis didn't appear at the gym. Davis expects to weigh 142 to 140 for Armstrong.

When Hazen learned the San-pon pitcher was Hal White, formerly of the Tigers, he became jittery and popped up on the next try. . . . "I was so busy studying that big league's style I just couldn't keep my eye on the ball," he explained.

Last Saturday Prexy Shag Shaughnessy of the International league fined Baltimore's Blas Monaco 25 bucks for some slight offense. That night Monaco socked two homers and the next day he hit another. . . . and Shaughnessy wasn't pitching, either.

FAIRLY MODERN

When Bobby Dill, the Minneapolis Miller's outfielder who plays big league hockey on the side, was traveling with an American Legion team a few years ago, he strolled into the dining car one morning and saw ex-President Herbert Hoover. . . . Dill seated himself, looked around and called cheerfully: "Hi, Herby."

Hoover gasped, then replied: "Good morning, son." . . . That was enough introduction for Bobby, who barged right over and secured an autograph.

PITT PROSPECTS LOOM BRIGHTER

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—Expecting at least nine veterans among the score or so of men who report for summer grid practice today, Coach Clark Shaughnessy thinks prospects for the University of Pittsburgh Panthers are "brighter than a year ago at this time."

"The 'old Fox' of the T-formation, however, doesn't know what to expect when he has his first 'tea party' next September."

Besides the veterans, I suppose I'll have 4-F's and 17-year-olds and some boys who have medical discharges. But I haven't much idea just what will be here when fall training begins."

Among those he said will report today are Jack Itzell, fullback; Jay Brown, end; Steve Polach, guard; Joe Kiehl, quarterback; Joe De Frank, guard and tackle; and Don Matthews, halfback, all classified 4-F and all 1943 holdovers. In addition, three Navy dental students, Jim Reber, end; Frank Kinsley, fullback, and Francis Mattiola, guard, are holdovers.

The Panthers open their schedule against West Virginia, here, Sept. 23, and follow with: Notre Dame, Sept. 30; Bethany, Oct. 7; Army at West Point, Oct. 14; Illinois, Oct. 21; Carnegie Tech, Oct. 28; Ohio State at Columbus, Nov. 11; Indiana at Bloomington, Nov. 18, and Pennsylvania, Nov. 25.

Blue Rocks May Gain First Place

(By The Associated Press)
Wilmington's Blue Rocks can take over leadership of the Interstate League tonight if they can win both games of a scheduled doubleheader with Allentown—and if first place Hagerstown has the graciousness to win at Trenton.

The Wilmington doubleheader was arranged after last night's contest, like the other two league games, was rained out.

Allentown, hot on the Blue Rocks' trail, could tie for first place with a pair of victories, also assuming a Hagerstown loss.

York and Lancaster, the former half a game ahead in the fourth place contest, meet at Lancaster tonight.

Political Teapot Is Brewing As Leaders Prepare For Major Convention

HANNEGAN IS SILENT AFTER FDR MEETING

(By The Associated Press)
Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, fresh from a talk with President Roosevelt, assembled a party committee in Chicago today to arrange for the July 19 Chicago convention at which the President can have another nomination for the taking.

Whether Hannegan brought word as to how Mr. Roosevelt feels about it was not disclosed.

He left the White House yesterday with a "no comment" rejoinder to a reporter who inquired whether he still sticks by his recent New York speech in which he predicted, as a matter of personal opinion, that the President will accept a fourth term nomination.

Hannegan and the arrangements committee members busied themselves with selection of a keynote speaker and recommendation of a convention chairman.

Kerr Is Favored
Governor Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, a fourth-term advocate, was the apparent pre-meeting favorite for keynote, while Hannegan and others were talked of for the chairmanship.

Other political developments:
Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio dined in Washington at a private dinner with Republican first terms in the house. Those attending said Bricker, aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, told them that the United States must play a strong role internationally but first "we must be strong at home."

A politician's nightmare continued in the counting of returns in Idaho's close race for the Democratic nomination for the Senate with a 14-vote margin separating the leaders.

When 713 of the state's 845 precincts had reported, an unofficial count showed: Senator D. Worth Clark 10,904 and Glen Taylor, singing cowboy from Pocatello, 10,018. James H. Hawley, Boise attorney, was trailing. His latest count showed 9,046 votes with 705 precincts in.

Gov. C. A. Bottelstein easily won the Republican nomination for the Senate post. The primary was held Tuesday.

The Texas Supreme Court granted pro-Roosevelt Democrats permission to file a suit intended to require the printing of the names of their presidential electors on the July 22 primary ballot. Their quarrel is with the regular state convention which named a different set of electors, who were left free to vote for any Democrat unless the national convention meets certain demands.

These demands, having to do with state's rights and racial matters, are southern in nature. Gov. Chauncey Sparks of Alabama called on ten other southern governors last night to unite in an effort to keep the party platform free of expression of "a view of social and political matters contrary to the views and necessities of the south."

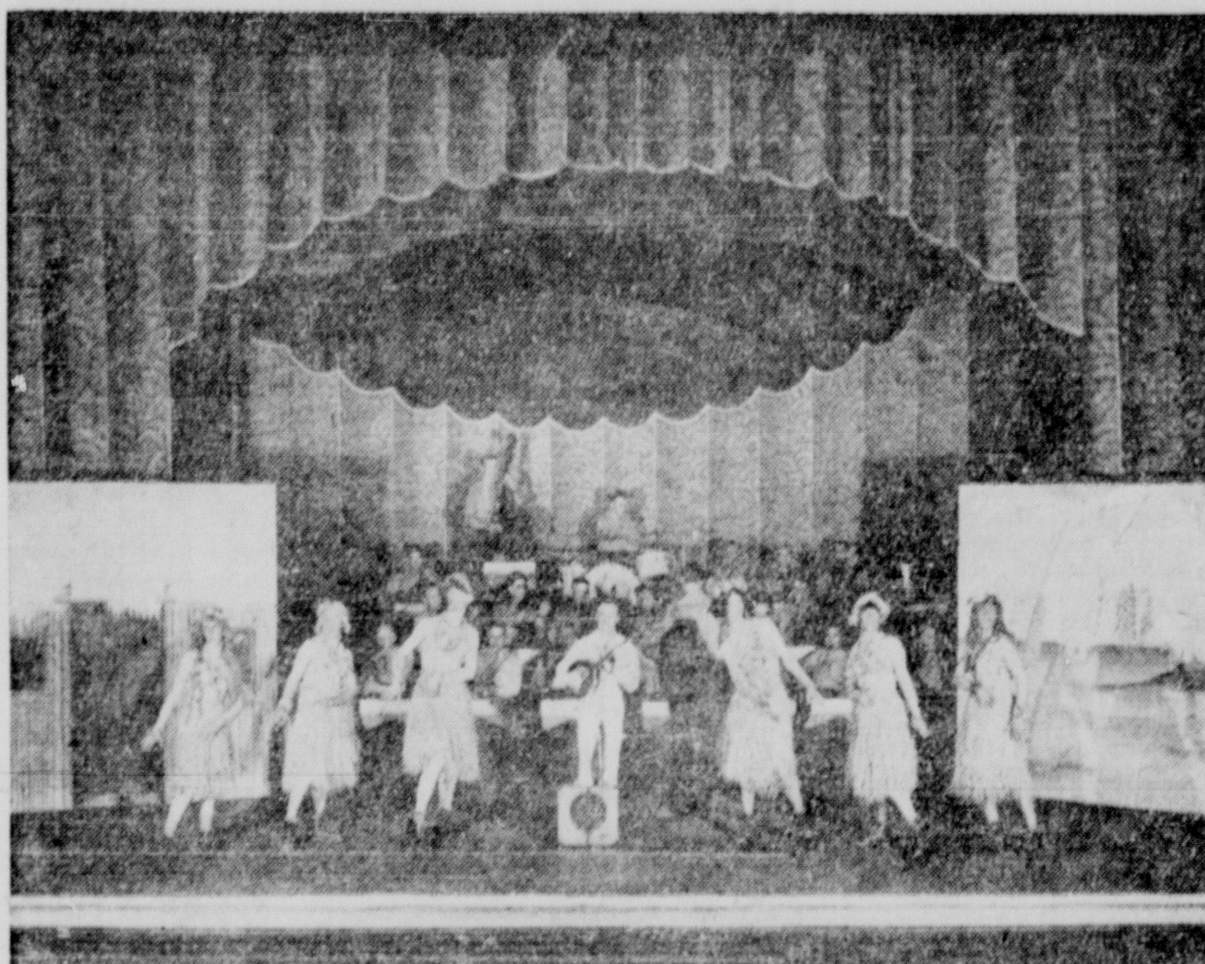

Finer Femininity Has Big Objective

Nashville, Tenn., June 15 (AP)—Global Thinkers, Inc. hopes to beam to the world its appeal for "finer femininity" so that our men won't come home from the battlefronts to a lot of drunken, immoral women.

The year-old organization's fight against smoking and drinking among women was outlined today. In an interview, by Miss Grace I. Donaldson of St. Petersburg, Fla., national director.

"We are not reformers, we do not carry hatchets, and we have no quarrel with anyone," she said. "Our aim is to educate women to think themselves into a new and better way of life. It's a new approach to an old problem."

Mrs. Myrtle McLean Baister of Nashville, founder of the organization, defined "finer femininity" as "abstaining from drinking and smoking, getting out of slacks, growing up in modesty, and generally raising moral standards from the mire where they've begun to sink."

ITALIANS FEAR CIVIL WAR IF ALLIES LEAVE

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Rome, June 14 (Delayed) (AP)—Every doughboy wants to get home as soon as the war is over but many an Italian helping the Allied armies will stay here for long after that.

A large part of the population, especially business men and others with property are fearful of what may happen in Italy when it is given back to the Italians.

Some think Italy will go communist; some think there will be civil war; some think the country will founder about for lack of leadership.

Some Italians are saying the present Bonomi government is a Kersensky government which will lead to communism.

Reds Best Disciplined
The Communists certainly are the best organized and best disciplined of the country's political parties and seem to have fine leadership in Palmiro Togliatti and his aides. At present they are cooperating wholeheartedly with the Allied command in the war effort and with the Bonomi government.

Unlike the Socialists and Liberals they are not using their energy for attacks on the House of Savoy. They have accepted the lieutenant general of Crown Prince Umberto as their king.

These demands, having to do with state's rights and racial matters, are southern in nature. Gov. Chauncey Sparks of Alabama called on ten other southern governors last night to unite in an effort to keep the party platform free of expression of "a view of social and political matters contrary to the views and necessities of the south."

a suitable expedient for the present.

Italian help to the Fifth Army in the battle of Rome came mainly from the Partigiani who joined in the battle outside the city. They are not necessarily communist party members but they were organized and led by Communist-trained men. Other groups organized behind German lines showed less zeal; one Rome business man said "the Allies ought to stay here and govern the country for five years. How can a people with so little training in governing themselves take over the most difficult reconstruction job in history?"

Vatican Is Strong
And then he said: "I'm afraid that as soon as the war is over America will go isolationist again and the British will pull out, too. Then there's almost sure to be civil war and communism."

There's another powerful factor in the Italian setup: the church. The Vatican is high in influence these days. It has survived Fascism as it survived countless reforms before and many Italians are clinging to it in their distress.

At present the Vatican seems to be concentrating on trying to prevent moral decay from setting in among the disheartened Italian people.

New Disease Is Baffling Doctors

Chicago, June 15 (AP)—A digestive disease of unknown cause which is sweeping the world was described today by Dr. Hobart A. Reimann, of Philadelphia.

It has caused no known deaths, but has been mistaken for a variety of other diseases, including flu and dysentery. It is also wrongly blamed on food poisoning.

Its signs are loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, dizziness, aching, abdominal discomfort and cramps. A person may have a few or nearly all of these. He may remain up and about or have to go to bed. He gets well in a few days, usually less than a week.

This disease, said Dr. Reimann has been observed in the United States, Germany, Canada, England, Denmark, Australia and elsewhere.

All the physicians who have studied it believe the disease both infectious and communicable. Food, milk and water have been eliminated as sources.

HALSEY LEAVES PACIFIC POST; GETS NEW TASK

By FRED HAMPSON

Allied Headquarters in the Pacific, June 15 (AP)—Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., relinquished his position as Allied commander in chief in the South Pacific today to Vice Admiral John Henry Newton, 62, his deputy commander.

Halsey is being assigned to a new and as yet undisclosed role in the Pacific. The formal change of command of the South Pacific and of the South Pacific force of the United States Pacific Fleet was accomplished in a simple ceremony in the headquarters building here.

Halsey became commander of the South Pacific area as a vice admiral October 18, 1942. Forces under his command defeated the Japanese in the battle of Santa Cruz October 26, 1942, and in the battle of Guadalcanal the following November 13 to 15. He was promoted to full admiral November 18, 1942.

Lauds Forces
Halsey sent a ringing "well done" message to his South Pacific forces, in a statement which said in part: "I send this parting well done to my victorious all-services South Pacific fighting team. You have met, measured and moved down the best the enemy had on land and sea and air."

"You have sent hundreds of Tojo's ships, thousands of his planes and tens of thousands of his slippery minions whence they came, never again to attack our flag nor the flags of our Allies."

Like Halsey, Vice Admiral Newton is stocky and square-jawed. He came to the South Pacific Command early this year after serving as deputy commander in chief of Pacific areas under Admiral Chester Nimitz at Pearl Harbor.

Newton formerly was deputy chief of naval operations under Admiral Ernest King, commander in chief of the United States Fleet, and figured prominently in planning and executing grand naval strategy in the Atlantic and Pacific, work for which he received the Legion of Merit.

Newton, a native of Pennsylvania, graduated from Annapolis in 1905 and commanded the destroyer Patterson in the World War.

He is married to the former Elsie Barr Curry of Key West, Fla., and has one son.

Boy, 15, Confesses Slaying Girl Friend

Springfield, Mass., June 15 (AP)—Police Chief R. P. Gallagher said Wednesday that a 15-year-old boy had confessed to the fatal shooting of schoolmate Carolyn Bennett, 14, because she had been "going out with other boys."

Gallagher identified the youth as William Reach, whose uncle S. Everett Cook, is assistant principal at Forest Park junior high school where both youngsters studied.

He said the boy was arrested by police in downtown Springfield a few hours after Carolyn's body was found in Forest Park not far from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bennett. Bennett formerly was a member of the Springfield city council.

Baked beans are good served with cabbage slaw, tomato catsup or chili sauce.

Confesses To Triple Slaying

Macon, Me., June 15 (AP)—Capt. J. F. Shaw of the State Highway patrol said today Raymond Paul Patrick, 20, of Monroe City, Mo., had confessed the triple slaying last week of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ross Foltz and their son, Ladwin J. Foltz, who lived on a farm near Hunnewell, Mo.

Shaw said charges of first degree murder would be filed today against Patrick, recently released from the Army on a medical discharge.

Shaw said Patrick did not explain why he killed the elder Foltz and his wife but the officer expressed the opinion he might have done it to cover up the angry slaying of their son.

Say "FDR" Buttons Are Private Venture

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The manufacture of campaign buttons with the slogan "I Want FDR Again" is a private enterprise, without Democratic party sponsorship, the Democratic National committee said today.

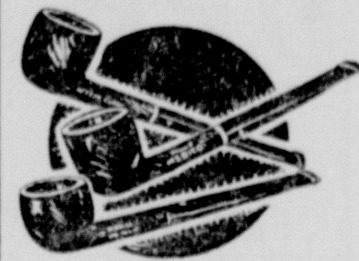

"Every year a lot of manufacturers make lapel pins, donkeys, elephants and whatever they think they can sell, without our knowledge or sponsorship," a committee spokesman said. "The committee usually adopts an official button to be distributed through state and local party organizations, but not until after the national convention is held, and the candidate is chosen."

The "I Want FDR Again" buttons are being made by a Chicago company under a War Production board policy which permits the use of idle and surplus steel for political buttons or badges.

DEGAULLE GETS OVATION FROM FRENCH PEOPLE

London, June 15 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle returned to France yesterday for the first time in four years to receive a warm welcome from the people of liberated Normandy, but his relations with Allied authorities remained clouded today by a reported disagreement involving the employment of French liaison officers during the invasion.

During his surprise visit in Allied-held territory, crowds gathered to cheer De Gaulle and to sing "La Marseillaise." The length of his visit was not immediately disclosed.

While he was receiving his ovation in Normandy, qualified sources in London said De Gaulle had withdrawn all but a handful of fighting French liaison officers at the very moment Allied troops were moving onto the assault beaches. A similar report came from high authorities in Washington.

Attache Denies Story
It was said here that these officers had been counted upon by the Allied Supreme Command to help take over civil administration.

His action was attributed to anger over the Allies' non-recognition of his National Liberation Committee as the provisional government of France and the refusal of the supreme command to let him take over the issuing of radio directions to the French people on D-Day.

Referring to the Washington report that De Gaulle had canceled orders for several hundred French officers to land with the first waves in the invasion, De Gaulle's press attache said:

"This is a most incredible report. We canceled no such agreement for we never signed such an agreement."

"As to reports that cooperation between the French population and the Allied armies had been impaired—that is quite possible, but it is not our fault."

Deny Other Rumors
Highest officials branded as false rumors that De Gaulle had ordered the French underground forces not to attack.

Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead reported that when De Gaulle arrived in Isigny he grimaced and ill-dressed people stumbled out of their wrecked homes and business houses shouting "De Gaulle! De Gaulle!"

De Gaulle told them their sufferings were "the suffering which every part of France will have to bear before final liberation."

Murder at CANDLEWOOD

by Gene Bunker Lumley

Chapter 12
Once or twice that night Spring listened, thinking the boards in the hall were creaking. The third time she was certain. She crossed her room and listened intently at the door. The steps went past, very slowly, down the hall and paused at the curve toward the stairs. Spring remembered, with a chill, that the top of the stairs creaked shrilly. Someone else had remembered, too. For now there was no sound at all.

Spring unlocked her door and stepped outside. There was a little balcony that looked down on the large main hall below. She stood there listening.

Someone was on the stairs. And it couldn't be anyone but her Aunt Drusilla, for her room, opposite Spring's, was at the end of the north wing. No one else would have had occasion to pass Spring's door. The footsteps went on down, paused, then there was the faint scuffle, of soft felt against hard flooring, and finally only the stillness.

Candlewood House was long and sprawling and Spring had been away for over a year. But she was determined to follow Drusilla and discover the purpose of these night prowlings. If she was sick and needed help, or if—Spring shivered in the cold hall. She tried not to think of the other possibility of her aunt's wanderings. If she thought too much about that twisted corpse on the stone bridge she wouldn't have the courage to grope through Candlewood House in pitch darkness. Something stronger than her good sense drew her toward the front stairs after that silent, creeping figure. She went back to get her flashlight from under her pillow, and holding it reassuringly in her left hand, she groped down the stairs.

Candlewood House was black as a cavern. She kept far to the right side, against the wall, of the long, semi-winding stairs. There was no sound below. Ahead of her lay the stair landing, directly beneath the balcony outside her own room at the north end of the hall. There was a long, stained glass window on the landing, but no moon tonight to lay its white path across the lower steps. Beyond the window, dimly outlined against the gray night, there was only blackness and the constant, tiring beat of rain.

She was halfway to the landing, taking each step cautiously, when she saw the pattern against the window outline. Her breath stopped in her throat. Her hands went numb with a shocking, paralyzing fear. There was someone on the stair landing!

Spring pressed against the wall, terror winging through her whole being. Reason was a thing beyond her. There was no reasoning with fright, and Spring was afraid.

Then the pattern was gone and she tried to believe she had imagined it, that it had never been there, that no one could cross the tiled hall floor beneath her without her having heard. She was gathering her strength to move down another step when the board creaked. The step below her, or the one above, creaked with the weight of a moving body! Spring groped wildly for the wall, and then ran down the seven steps to the landing and on to the hall below. She ran blindly, without purpose, anywhere to escape the trap on the stairs. And then a scream tore apart the sleeping calm of Candlewood House.

The cry came again, and then there was stillness. Not quiet, but a dead heavy stillness that was even worse.

Spring flung herself across the hall, her flashlight on now, down the narrow north hallway toward the back of the house where the scream had sounded. She knew, intuitively, that it was from the back parlor. She threw open the door, her flashlight catching the figure of a man. Spring screamed, it was Dirk's name that came, loudly, for help. Then, suddenly, she was ashamed. She had awakened the household for nothing. The figure her flashlight had found was the suit of armor standing stiff and silent against the wall.

The others had wakened. She heard them running overhead, heard Dirk's voice above the others on the stairs, and she started to laugh hysterically. And then, as her flashlight jerked in her hand, she felt the blood running out of her veins, leaving her cold and sick. There on the floor, at the far end of the room, a figure lay face down in the unmistakable crumpled shape of disaster.

"Jo!" she screamed. "Jo!"

The others came in, candles dancing weirdly and breaking up the darkness into waves of light and shadow. Dirk and Justen were across the room and bending over the figure on the carpet. Great Aunt Adelaide thumped her cane from the hall. Dirk lifted the girl carefully and laid her on the leather couch at the end of the piano.

"Jo!" Dirk called loudly, bending over the girl, and his voice seemed to be trying desperately to bridge the shadows between the world of the living and that swiftly approaching other one.

Spring knew, without being told, that Dirk was trying to outrace death. "Jo, what happened! Tell us what happened to you!"

The girl moved her head slightly with just a fraction of a motion as she struggled to recognize him. Her lips moved stiffly, but no sound came. She tried again. Those waiting within the parlor gloom made no smallest sound. And then, Jo, whispered, in words that were light sighs from very far away:

"The . . . beav . . . er . . . moved . . . uh . . ."
And then she was gone.

Hurry With Postwar Plan Says Baruch

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Calling on America to "hurry, hurry, hurry" its post-war planning, Bernard M. Baruch declared in a letter made public today that "the nation still is months away from being prepared to meet the great adjustments that will come on that unknown X-Day when one of our enemies is defeated."

"Further delays and inactions can only make our readiness ever more distant and will turn the adventure in prosperity that lies within our grasp into an adventure in adversity," he asserted in a letter to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes. The letter, dated May 12, was incorporated in a report of hearings held by the Senate Military Affairs subcommittee on demobilization.

Baruch, head of the advisory unit for war and post-war adjustment policies, told Byrnes that while much has been done toward carrying out the demobilization program recommended February 15, administrative or legislative action still is needed on several important matters.

CLAIM GERMAN HAD CONTRACT FOR DEFENSES

Washington, June 15 (AP) — A congressional committee's inquiry into delayed defense preparations at Pearl Harbor produced a report highlighted by descriptions of yachting parties given for the Army colonel in charge of construction in Hawaii by a German-born contractor who held War Department contracts for the work.

The report, by the House Military committee, called on the Army for "further explanation" of what it termed "mismanagement" on the part of Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., and why the contracts had been awarded to Hans Wilhelm Rohl, then a German alien although he had been a resident of the United States since 1913. He was naturalized, the committee said, only three months before the sneak Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Garve Wild Parties

Asserting there were unexplained delays in construction, particularly in building an aircraft warning system, the report said that had the system been completed on schedule the attack on the Pacific bastion might have been robbed of much of its surprise.

The committee, saying it could not understand "why a man known to be a German alien" was put in charge of the work, devoted a portion of its report to Rohl's personal background, noting that he "bragged of close acquaintance with all visiting German diplomats and persons of high rank."

Wyman and Rohl met in Los Angeles in 1935, the committee stated, and "developed very close social relations," which led, the report added, to parties aboard Rohl's yacht, the "Ramona."

Among entertainment the committee said Rohl provided for the colonel were "wild drinking parties" at which "cheap-looking type of young girls paraded in and out all evening."

Up To War Chiefs
The long report contained no conclusions and only brief committee comment. Whether additional reports on the case would be made, said Chairman May (D-Ky), depends on future developments, adding:

"The next move is up to the War Department."

H. Ralph Burton, committee investigator who prepared the report, said his last information was that Rohl still was in business in Los Angeles.

The investigation was made by a sub-committee headed by May, with these other members: Costello (Calif.); Sparkman (Ala.); and Durham (NC), Democrats; and Martin (Iowa); Elston (Ohio) and Fenton (Pa), Republicans.

Their report was approved by the full military committee. Rohl was a major stockholder in Hawaiian Constructors, a joint contracting venture which held $125,000,000 in contracts for work in Hawaii, Alaska, and South Pacific islands.

Pfc. Ralph Berkheimer, a former faculty member at the local high school, is now on furlough among Paradise township relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Wine and daughter, Maxine, sons, Glyden and Marvin, were recent visitors to Tuscarora Summit.

last war, was an engineer officer in charge of defense construction in the Hawaiian and South Pacific areas. He is now stationed overseas.

Had Air Route Job

The committee said that despite knowledge that Rohl was a German alien, the War Department, upon Wyman's recommendation, on Dec. 29, 1940, entered into a contract with Hawaiian Constructors to install defense projects in Hawaii "which meant the safety and protection of the United States."

Less than two months before the Pearl Harbor attack, it added, the department gave the company a contract to begin construction of an air route by way of Christmas Island, Canton, Nandi, New Caledonia and Australia.

The committee began its investigation nearly six months ago, following an inquiry by a California legislative committee.

Hear Sedition Trial Arguments

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of U. S. District Court agreed today to hear oral arguments Monday on a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal for the 29 defendants in the mass sedition conspiracy case.

Defense attorneys will base their arguments on the Supreme Court's decision last Monday overruling the espionage conviction of Elmer Hartzel of Chicago.

Rogge, chief prosecutor, said he would outline "some of the high-lights" of the government's case and show "specific intent" on the part of the defendants to conspire to impair the morale of the armed forces.

Jackson commented that the indictment in the sedition case "wouldn't have been returned" if the Hartzel decision had been made at the time.

"UNDERGROUND" IN FRANCE HAS NAZIS WORRIED

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ

Madrid, June 15 (AP)—Reports out of underground France asserted today that a methodic, persistent rising by the greater part of the French nation is undermining the Germans' best laid plans to hold the Allied invasion.

These advices, filtering through many points on the Franco-Spanish frontier and through diplomatic channels, said that guerrillas and the organized underground were actively leading the French in making trouble and yet more trouble for the Germans.

That the Germans recognized the danger was demonstrated by an order placing 11 departments in central France and parts of four others under the same military rules as those prevailing in the Atlantic wall zone.

From Iran came a report that "Maquis" still firmly held the city of Tarbes, in the foothills of the Pyrenees, thereby cutting off a large section of southern France from the Mediterranean coast and rail route so important to the Germans. Travelers said the German Occupation Command was too busy with other troubles at present to send forces needed to re-capture Tarbes.

It was reported that Limoges also was held by these "Maquis," or guerrilla fighters, while northeast of Bordeaux Angouleme and Perigueux were out of communication with the rest of France. In the Limousin mountains and the Plateau Millevaches in Vienne and Corrèze departments a powerful guerrilla army was reported organizing with arms and munitions supplied by plane.

From the Mediterranean frontier at Portbou it was reported guerrillas and Maquis of Savoy were moving westward across the Rhone toward the great central plateau, gathering volunteers from Vichy gendarmes and mobile guards. All little frontier points along the Pyrenees reported that guerrillas who long had inhabited the foothills of the French side of that chain were moving northward.

Postpones Debate On French Relations

London, June 15 (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill today secured a postponement of full-dress debate in Commons on the controversial issue of British-American relations with the French Committee of National Liberation, parrying a demand for a showdown with the assertion "it would do more harm than good now."

In his first appearance before the house since his daring trip to the beachhead in Normandy Monday, Churchill made only scant reference to the progress of the war, declaring that any anxiety over the De Gaulle committee question "should properly be directed to our gallant soldiers and to the great operations which are in progress, which give hope as well as anxiety."

The prime minister contended full discussion of the subject should be held off until negotiations among the French committee, the United States and Britain can be completed.

SIX-TON BOMBS BLAST E-BOAT PENS OF NAZIS

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15 (AP)—A force of between 1,000 and 2,000 American Fortresses and Liberators and escorting fighters swept over France this morning, bombing airplane plants, airfields and railroad facilities in a dozen places.

Berlin radio reported an attack on the great industrial city of Hanover in Germany while lighter Allied warplanes from bases in Normandy and Britain continued their widespread support campaign in a smashing follow-up to an 1,100-bomber operation overnight.

As a part of the latter operation several hundred Lancasters blasted E-boat pens at Le Havre with six ton "factory busters" in daylight.

A force of Mosquito bombers attacked the synthetic oil center of Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr last night to keep the unceasing assault on Hitler's war machine going around the clock.

Drop 3,360 Tons
The Lancasters, accompanied by fighter escort, were believed to have accomplished a successful mission yesterday in their switch to American bombing tactics, for the Navy reported no E-boats at work in the channel last night.

The RAF's heavies have operated in daylight a few times in the past, notably in the D-day preliminary assault, but never in such a heavy attack. The tonnage dropped by the RAF on the thick concrete installations at Le Havre was estimated as high as 3,360 tons—more than most of the RAF's "saturation" attacks on German cities.

The RAF targets last night included another string of enemy railroad centers—Dona, Cambrai and St. Pol—and German front troop concentrations at Evrecy and Amay-sur-Odon, only nine and 18 miles respectively from Caen in the Normandy battle area.

Night bomber losses were placed at five—none in the Gelsenkirchen attack.

The American Ninth Air Force, in its heaviest assault since the first 48 hours of the invasion, sent out more than 2,400 bombers and fighters from dawn yesterday to late last night to pound key points behind the Nazi lines with 1,455 tons of bombs at a cost of 14 fighters and one medium bomber against 11 German planes shot down and ten destroyed on the ground.

Use French Bases
Hundreds of medium, light and fighter bombers and fighters of both the American Ninth and RAF tactical force concentrated on small targets in the area at the base of the Cherbourg peninsula, bounded by St. Lo, Coutances, Granville and Tessa, and up the peninsula.

The Americans included a surprise "on deck" against the German air base at Le Mans in their operations last night. About a dozen planes were destroyed on the ground.

Hundreds of sorties were flown from the mounting number of Allied air bases set up with full facilities in captured territory.

The Germans claimed they bombed six Allied ships in the channel.

CRUSHED TO DEATH
Burgessville, Pa., June 15 (AP)—George Butcher, Jr., 27, was crushed to death under the wheels of an electric locomotive yesterday at the nearby American Zinc and Chemical company's yard. Coroner M. J. Sweeney reported. His clothing caught on the engine just as he attempted to jump off, dragging him under the wheels.

Foresees Serious Shortage Of Fuel

Rochester, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Gordon C. Cooke, chairman of the National Anthracite Distribution committee, said today the Solid Fuels situation promises to "grow progressively worse" the next few months and that before the end of winter there will be a "mad scramble for any kind of fuel."

Cooke, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Hudson Coal company, also said in an interview that "even if the war in Europe should end tomorrow there would be no lessening next winter in the serious coal situation."

He reported that "considerable" soft coal is being shipped to the European war theater with the result many industries have been forced to utilize other types of coal.

Officers' Mistake Brings 2nd Death

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—Ralph Landefeldt, 29, shot last Saturday when he and a companion were mistaken for car thieves by policemen, died last night, the second victim of the officers' gunfire.

Edwin Schuler, 23, of McKees Rocks, was killed almost instantly when he and Landefeldt, fearing a holdup, fled from the police ambush.

Stowe township Police Chief William Duerr is free under $10,000 bond pending a coroner's inquest into the Schuler death.

BRICKER CAMP SEES 250-300 GOP BALLOTS

BY JACK BELL

(By The Associated Press)
A prediction came Wednesday from the forces of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio that he "will receive between 250 and 300 votes on the first ballot" at the Republican presidential nominating convention.

This report, supplied by directors of the field staff of the Bricker-for-president committee, accorded their man a total of 174 votes now—50 pledged and 124 definitely claimed—and figured the total for Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, at 285—72 pledged and 213 "probable."

Five hundred and twenty-nine votes are needed to nominate and the Bricker people viewed the field of uninstructed delegates as fruitful and said the Ohioan is "growing stronger each day."

Democrats Lose Majority

The "first ballot analysis" from the Bricker camp came as the election of a Republican to congress from the 19th Illinois district shuffled house standings to the point that for the first time in 13 years the Democrats lack an actual majority of the house membership.

This election Tuesday, of Rolla C. McMillen, unopposed, gives the Republicans 212 members. The Democrats still have 216 but there are four minor party members and thus the Democrats have exactly half the total. There are three vacancies.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) Tuesday put the party on record—as far as one individual can—for a foreign policy plank declaring for effective cooperation of the nations of the world toward postwar peace and the termination of military aggression.

Won't Permit Sacrifice

Vandenberg, who heads the GOP postwar advisory committee on foreign policy, will lay that group's formal recommendations before the platform builders in hearings next week in Chicago.

He told the Senate Tuesday that the Republicans would "stand for a just peace which will implement major promises of the Atlantic Charter."

The fourth term question figured in the debate when Senator Hatch (D-N. M.) said he was sure President Roosevelt would be willing to retire if, by that action, he could unite the country behind peace aims. But the Democrats are not going to let him make that sacrifice, Hatch said.

Later at his news conference, Mr. Roosevelt refused to be drawn out.

Question Three On Death Of Dentist

Greensburg, Pa., June 15 (AP)—Three suspects, two of them women, today were questioned by state police in connection with the slaying of Dr. George Kern, Johnstown dentist, last December.

Lt. A. J. Hudock, commanding state police troop "A," said one of the suspects, a 38-year-old man, was picked up in Philadelphia by state and city police after he returned from a trip to California.

Kern disappeared from his home December 9. His automobile was found in a Johnstown parking lot the next day and two days later his body was discovered by hunters along a country road in Somerset county, three miles south of Windber.

One of the women was arrested in Johnstown while the other woman was arrested in Philadelphia.

Paying Landlord Increases Bonus

Cleveland, June 15 (AP)—Henry Solomon, the Cleveland landlord who rewards all tenants visited by the stork has raised the ante since the start of the fifth war loan drive and made the baby bonus a $25 war bond.

Originally he gave each family $5 in gold and when the United States went off the gold standard payments were made in silver. Until the Fifth War Loan Drive started rewards were made in war savings stamps.

Under Solomon's plan a second child in the same family would receive a $5 war bond, a third child a $100 bond, a fourth child a $200 bond and so on.

The landlord has paid off 54 times—in 17 years and has prepared for the unusual by taking out insurance with Lloyds of London, payable if any of his tenants have quintuplets.

Miners Assemble On Contract Issue

Hazleton, Pa., June 15 (AP)—Representatives of more than 60,000 anthracite miners assembled today to hear a report of the tri-district scale committee on the signing of a new contract between miners and operators for United Mine Workers Districts 1, 7 and 9.

Thomas Kennedy, UMW secretary-treasurer, was to speak today on the contract, which the 350 delegates from 240 local unions will be asked to ratify later in the week.

The tri-district convention is to hear UMW President John L. Lewis on Friday.

Mickey Rooney Is Inducted Into Army

Los Angeles, June 15 (AP)—The screen's Mickey Rooney has a new role—and a new salary—today. The Army gave him both.

A barracks bag slung over his shoulder, the 22-year-old inductee told reporters at nearby Ft. MacArthur:

"This is the biggest thing in my life. It makes me happy to know they've accepted me."

The erstwhile No. 1 boxoffice attraction exchanged that designation for an identification number almost as long as his name, and a weekly film salary in four figures for a private's pay.

He was inducted yesterday following a deferment granted to complete film work when he passed his physical last March. In March 1943, Rooney was rejected for military service because, his mother said, Army doctors found he had a heart flutter and high blood pressure.

The actor and Ava Gardner, 20-year-old screen player, were divorced in Las Vegas, Nev. last Sept. 15.

MUST RE-EARN PRIVILEGES

Kittanning, Pa., June 15 (AP)—Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwaller (R-Lehigh), majority floor leader of the State House of Representatives, told a Flag Day audience last night that "We must re-earn for ourselves the privileges that we as a people of a great nation enjoy."

Make hollandaise sauce with herbed red wine vinegar instead of lemon juice by using the same proportion as usual—a half tablespoonful to each egg yolk—and a quarter cup of butter or margarine.

Extends Statute On Dec. 7 Trials

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Against the recommendation of the secretaries of War and Navy, President Roosevelt today signed legislation extending the statute of limitations for possible trials growing out of the Pearl Harbor disaster and directing the services to investigate the catastrophe and commence proceedings "as the facts may justify." The measure extends the statute of limitations six months from June 7—until December 7, 1944.

Somerset, Pa., June 15 (AP)—Donald Eugene Yoder, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Yoder, drowned in a rain-swollen stream at the rear of his home yesterday. His grandfather recovered the body a half mile downstream.

ADAMS COUNTIANS

We are now in the midst of our FIFTH WAR BOND CAMPAIGN to raise $2,797,000 Before Midnight of July 8, 1944

Every loyal American citizen of Adams county must feel the urgency of the appeal of this Bond Drive.

Every American must fully realize that this is probably the most important financial campaign of the war.

Our Armed Forces, on Land, Sea and in the Air, as well as under the Sea, are making strategic and significant gains against our common enemies who would conquer the Free People of the world.

To maintain a strong fighting force requires billions of dollars worth of uniforms, shoes, food, planes, guns, tanks, ships, medicine, trucks, Jeeps, Peeps and countless other items. The only source from which this money can possibly come is from every American citizen.

Your Government merely asks the privilege of borrowing money from you . . . all of which . . . every penny . . . will be repaid with interest. YOU CAN'T LOSE!!!

It is our duty as Citizens of this great country to maintain its might before the ruthless aggressors . . . to maintain an Army, Navy and Air Force strong enough to carry on through a Victorious Peace.

OUR FIGHTING MEN ARE NOT FAILING US!!!!
CAN WE DARE TO FAIL THEM!!!!

ASSERT POLIO TREATMENT HAD MISLED MANY

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

Chicago, June 15 — A charge that the public and many doctors have been misled by publicity about the infantile paralysis treatment of Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famous Australian nurse, was made today in a report by seven university professors, all physicians.

They also said they acknowledge that the Kenny publicity has stimulated the medical profession to more effective treatment.

The seven were appointed two years ago this June to evaluate the Kenny treatment by the orthopedic section of the American Medical Association and by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons and the American Orthopedic Association.

Criticize Claims
"There is no evidence," the report said, "that the Kenny treatment prevents or decreases the amount of paralysis. We criticize severely the oft repeated statement of Miss Kenny to patients who have come to her after treatment elsewhere that had this case come to her early the disability would have been prevented. Such statements are not founded on facts."

"Spontaneous recovery in poliomyelitis occurs in many cases. Reports in the medical literature indicate that this varies in different epidemics from 50 to 80 per cent. We have seen many patients receiving the Kenny treatment who showed no muscle involvement at any time, yet she assumes credit for their satisfactory results and does not take into account the factor of spontaneous recovery."

In another place the report said: "Miss Kenny has repeatedly stated that under 'orthodox' treatment only 13 per cent of the patients recovered without paralysis, while under her treatment over 80 per cent recovered. x x x Miss Kenny's statement of 80 per cent recovery under her treatment has not been supported by accurate statistics in a significant number of cases."

ROTARY AWARDS

Chicago, June 15 (AP)—The Rotary clubs of Lock Haven and Waynesburg, Pa., will be given the president's award for significant achievement during 1943-44 at Rotary headquarters here Friday, as the outstanding clubs in their districts.

To Ask Spain To End War Shipments

Washington, June 15 (AP)—With a major diplomatic victory in hand—Sweden's agreement to limit substantially her ball-bearing sales to Germany—the United States has concentrated its efforts on Spain and will ask her to ring down a curtain between Spanish production and the Nazis.

American Ambassador Carlton Hayes, it was learned today, has been instructed to ask the Spanish government to ban all war vital exports to Germany, not only of Spanish tungsten, but of every other commodity important to the Nazis such as olive oil, hides, skins and wool.

B & O Engineer Is Killed In Wreck

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—W. F. Carson, 52, of South Hills, engineer of a Baltimore and Ohio railroad freight train, was killed Tuesday when his locomotive and several cars were derailed near Broughton.

Albert Hope, 42, of Mt. Oliver, a brakeman, suffered third degree burns in the accident, which tied up traffic on both tracks of the railroad's Wheeling division for several hours.

Carson's body was pinned in the engine and was removed by workers who cut out a section of the cab with acetylene torches.

Axel Anderson and daughters, Phyllis, Marilyn and Carole, of Erie, and Donald Sachs, of Petersburg, were Thursday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory.
